Experts Disagree as to a $100 Bank Note.

A $100 bank bill is causing a good deal of discussion among bank tellers and government officials. As to whether it is good or bad there is a difference of opinion.

The bill turned up at the Illinois Trust and Savings bank a few days ago. Teller Cooper thought it a good bill and showed it to other experts. It purported to have been issued by the First National bank of Boston. To settle the question the bill was taken to the subtreasury. Receiving Teller Schoeninger pronounced it bad and punched the word counterfeit in it as is customary.

There are few counterfeit $100 bank bills known to be in existence, and that of the First National of Boston is one of the best. In $100 bank bills, at the left is a picture of Commodore Perry and his men in a rowboat on Lake Erie just as the commodore is about to utter the memorable words, "We have met the enemy, and they are ours." In genuine bills water is seen to be dripping from both sides of an oar suspended above the water. In the counterfeits the water drips from only one side of the oar blade. The bill in question had a drip on only one side, it is claimed, although the bill was so much worn that it was difficult to determine that point. It was the main point on which Mr. Schoeninger bases his decision.

Tellers generally think the bill is good in spite of the decision of the receiving teller of the subtreasury. It has been sent to Washington for a final decision. —Chicago Tribune.

A Story of Arsene Houssaye.

A curious adventure has happened to M. Arsene Houssaye, the author. Some years ago, while at his country seat in the department of the Aisne, he saved a little girl from being burned to death in a fire which occurred on her father's farm. He had forgotten all about the event till the other day, when a handsome young woman called at his chateau and informed him that the firemen of the village where the conflagration took place had voted him a medal.

"I am the child you rescued from the flames," she said, "and have come to thank you with all my heart for your noble and generous bravery." Her name is Mlle. Dupre, and she is on the point of getting married.

M. Houssaye, charmed with her simple bearing, and delighted with the medal she handed him, said to her: "So you are going to be married are you? Well, I am glad to hear it, and shall consider it an honor if you will allow me to provide your gown for the wedding and another gown made of flame colored gauze to recall to mind the first day I made your pleasant acquaintance." It is needless to say that she accepted the offer.—Paris Cor. St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Lived in a Crypt Twenty-eight Years.

Robert Davidson, who for twenty-eight years lived in the crypt of the Westminster Presbyterian church at Baltimore, is dead. He was born in Ireland in 1811, and came to America early in life. Some years before the war he became sexton of Westminster church. He fitted up a room in a humble way among the graves and tombs beneath the church, and since 1863 he lived there in a hermitlike way. He was extremely reticent in regard to his history, and would never give any explanation as to how he came to choose such a place as a dwelling place.—Philadelphia Ledger.

The Craze for Horseflesh in Berlin.

I heard yesterday that the French liking for horseflesh is imitated to such a degree in Berlin as to have become a craze. Several invitations have been received by proprietors of Parisian restaurants to a grand banquet of this meat, announced to take place in one of the principal restaurants of Berlin. Dishes prepared only from horseflesh will be served, and the menu comprises the following: Horse broth, with tapioca; horse tongue, glazed and ornamented; horse brains a la Toulouse; roast loin of horse, with cranberries; horse head en tortue, with salad.—Cor. Philadelphia Times.

Shot the Dummy.

James Toles, a well to do colored man, near Plain City, O., was awakened a few nights ago by the unusual barking and snarling of his dog, and going to the door with his shotgun fired at the figure of a man standing near one of several apple trees on which his Thanksgiving turkeys were roosting. The figure fell to the ground, and Toles, cautiously going forward, found it to be a dummy, made with old clothes stuffed with straw. In the meantime thieves had carried away seven fat gobblers.—Exchange.

Digging for Buried Treasure.

A tradition exists about English, Ind., that the Wyandottes buried treasures of gold and silver which they stole from the early missionaries and other parties in that neighborhood, and occasionally the treasure hunters become a plague. One of these fevers is now "on," and as the country is underlaid with iron, the divining rods are leading the owners to dig, until some of the fields look like newly planted graveyards.—Philadelphia Ledger.

An Electric Cowcatcher.

An electric device for cleading a track of obstructions is among the newest ideas. It consists of a triangular steel folding frame, over which a net is stretched. This is placed on the front of a locomotive and can be opened at will, catching the obstruction upon it. An additional arrangement is a scoop to drop on the track. The recent tests were very satisfactory.—Exchange.

Killed Two Deer with One Charge of Shot

W. M. Park, of Foxcroft, shot a buck and a doe with one discharge of his gun recently while hunting near that town. He did not see the doe when he fired, but when he went forward to secure the buck which he had hit he was surprised to find a doe by his side. His gun was loaded with a heavy charge of buckshot, and two of them had entered the doe.—Bangor (Me.) News.

A Peeress Whose Title Went Back to 1264.

By the death of the Dowager Lady Falmouth her eldest son, the present Lord Falmouth, succeeds to one of the most venerable titles in the English peerage. The barony of Le Despencer was created by writ of summons in 1264, and the name of Hugh Le Despencer was of historic note in the reigns of Edward II and Edward III. The barony being a barony by writ was transmissible, where male heirs failed, in the female line, and a succession of heiresses carried the title of Le Despencer in the families of Beauchamp, Nevill, Fane and Stapleton. After three centuries of abeyance it was revived in favor of Sir Thomas Stapleton, who became Lord Le Despencer in 1788.

The eldest son died in his father's lifetime, leaving an only daughter, Mary Frances Stapleton, who on her grandfather's death became Baroness Le Despencer in her own right. The little heiress was then only nine years old, and she was the only young lady who ever made her debut in society already a peeress in her own right. Lady Le Despencer soon bestowed her hand, her heart and her beautiful place, Mereworth, near Maidstone, on a young barrister, Mr. Evelyn Boscawen, who shortly after became Lord Falmouth and lived to be so well known in the racing world.

The venerable title of Le Despencer thus became merged in the superior though much more modern dignity of Viscount Falmouth, and there it must remain unless some future Lord Falmouth shall have daughters only. In that case the viscounty of Falmouth being, like the common run of modern peerages, transmissible only in the male line, will pass to the nearest male heir. If there are more daughters than one the barony of Le Despencer will fall into abeyance among them, and if there is only one she will blossom out as Baroness Le Despencer, and if she marries will carry away the title into her husband's family.—London Letter.

Improper Labels.

It used to be jestingly said that the name of Mohammed was invoked for all purposes, even down to the itinerant fruit seller, whose cry was, "In the name of the prophet—figs." But it appears to be the practice for enterprising and pushing British manufacturers to have recourse to the same alliance of piety with profits. British exporters to Morocco, it seems, have been accustomed to place Arabic inscriptions on their wares, such as calicoes, candles, matches, etc. According to the consul at Magador, the sultan has lately issued the following warning through the customs administration: "Having learned that certain goods imported, including calicoes, matches, etc., have been imported bearing in Arabic characters the names of Mohammed, of Hassan and Ali, and others held sacred by Moslimen, and bearing other writing not suitable to be on such articles, I order you to give notice to the merchants to advise their correspondents in other countries to discontinue the sending of goods so marked. A reasonable time will be allowed for this notice to reach them. Any such goods imported after due notice has been given will be seized by the government and treated as contraband. Should the importer be a Moslem, he will be punished in addition to the forfeiture."—Leisure Hour.

Large Production of Anthracite.

The year 1891 was remarkable in the anthracite coal trade for its enormous production, which far exceeds that of any other year. Heretofore 1888 has borne the banner for production, or rather shipments, with a total of 38,145,718 tons, but the present outlook is that 1891 will surpass this by about 2,000,000 tons, or something over 40,000,000 in all, an unprecedented figure, and nearly 5,000,000 tons greater than the shipments of 1890.

The statistics of shipments of hard coal up to Dec. 5 show that so far in 1891 37,509,559 tons had been shipped, an increase of 4,039,593 over 1890 for the corresponding period. The shipments for December agreed upon by the companies are 3,250,000 tons, and if that full amount were carried the total is considerably over 40,000,000.—Philadelphia Record.

Grapes All Winter.

Fresh grapes can be had all through the winter at a trifling expenditure of care and attention. The grapes should be cut when just ripe, with several inches of stem on each bunch, and then be placed in paper boxes, with a layer of crumpled newspaper underneath and another above them. The bunches should not touch, and the grapes should not be piled in the box. Keep them in a cool, dry room—not in the cellar, the dampness there is sure to spoil them—and with care to prevent their freezing they will be as eatable in February as in October.—Interview in St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Sixty-five Million Dollars an Acre.

The other day the Southeastern Railway company was asked no less a sum than £1,350,000 for a small and practically useless piece of ground in Bermondsey. The land is about sixteen feet in depth, and comprises an area of 4,134 superficial feet, so that the claim is at the rate of £13,000,000 an acre. The company, it is scarcely necessary to add, did not close at the sum stated.—London Tit-Bits.

Discovery of a Natural Cave.

A handsome natural cave was recently discovered in Lafayette county, Ga. It contains many rooms of most exquisite crystallized beauty and a yawning abyss into which large stones have been thrown with no reverberating sounds borne back to the ear by which its depths might be gauged.—Exchange.

"Smaller Fleas to Bite 'Em."

In view of the expected visitation of grasshoppers in some parts of the state next year, the state board of horticulture has arranged for a supply of parasites from New South Wales, to be ready for distribution in March.—San Francisco

THE MUTABILITY OF POLITICS.

Statesmen are contemplating the mutability of politics as exemplified in Congress. Two years ago at the commencement of the Fifty-first Congress, the Republicans had a majority in the Senate and House. They increased the majority in the House by unseating several Democrats, and added to the majority in the Senate by admitting Idaho and Wyoming. Now the House is about three-fourths Democratic and the Speaker of of the last Congress, if the rules of that House should be adopted by the present one, would not be heard during the session and seen only when it became necessary, if such necessity should arise, to count him to make a quorum.

Two years ago the Republicans had a majority of ten in the Senate, which they increased to fourteen by admitting Idaho and Wyoming. This, they claimed, would keep them in a majority in the Upper House of Congress for ten or a dozen years. Within the last year this majority has been reduced by the election of Palmer of Illinois to succeed Farwell, Vilas of Wisconsin to succeed Spooner, and Hill of New York to succeed Evarts. Changes have also been made by the election of Peffer in Kansas, to succeed Ingalls, and of Kyle of South Dakota to succeed Moody. Peffer acts with the Republicans and Kyle with the Democrats, giving the Democrats a net gain of four and reducing the Republican majority from fourteen to six.

The terms of Aldrich of Rhode Island, of Hiscock of New York, of Sawyer of Wisconsin, and of Sanders of Montana, will expire March 4, 1893, and their successors will be elected next Winter. It is believed that New York and Montana will elect Democrats, in which event the Senate will be a tie, and if Wisconsin or Rhode Island should elect a Democrat it would give that party control of the Senate next year.

The injustice of electing United States Senators by vote of the Legislature instead of by popular vote, is apparent in Massachusetts. Rhode Island and Connecticut, as it was until quite recently in New York. These States have Democratic Governors, but all the Senators from them are Republicans, save Hill of New York, who is the first Democratic Senator from that State for many years, though it has invariably elected Governors of that political faith for a dozen or more years.

Iowa, too, which has twice in succession elected a Democratic Governor, is represented in the Senate by two Republicans. The cause of this is that the Legislature of the several States which elect Democratic State officers, district them for Legislative purposes, so as to keep the Republicans in the ascendancy in the Legislature, and the anomaly is presented of a State electing Democratic State officers and Republican United States Senators regularly for years.

McKINLEY INAUGURATED.

Governor McKinley was inaugurated at Columbus, Ohio, yesterday. The ceremonies were attended by a large concourse of citizens, and delegations from other States. The Judges of the Supreme Court, State officers and members of the Legislature, were present when Governor Campbell introduced the Governor-elect, who took the oath of office, and delivered his inaugural address.

Governor McKinley referred to the progress of Ohio in wealth and population, and the decrease of the State debt. He favored the new ballot law as a step in the right direction, and dwelt upon the subject of redistricting the State for Congressional and legislative purposes. He discountenanced gerrymandering and advised the Legislature not to abuse its power and to exercise the greatest conservatism.

The Congressional delegation from Ohio under the present apportionment consists of twenty-one Representatives and of course two Senators. The political complexion of the majority of the Representatives is changed every few years, independent of the majority in the State, by reason of the action of the Legislature. In 1889 though Campbell, the Democratic candidate for Governor, was elected, the Congressional representation stood sixteen Republicans to five Democrats. Then a Democratic Legislature redistricted the State and in the present Congress there are fourteen Democrats and seven Republicans.

The Ohio Legislature has reduced gerrymandering to a science. When it is Republican it divides the State so that nearly all the Representatives to Congress are of that party, and when it is Democratic a majority of the Congressmen are of that party. Neither party districts the State on a fair basis, and Governor McKinley, if he means what he says in his address, should not sign a bill to district the State for Representatives in Congress that does not deal justly with both parties.

AN IMPORTANT DECISION.

The Supreme Court of the United States rendered an important decision yesterday, in the case of Charles Counselman, appellant, vs. Frank Hitchcock, Marshal of the United States District Court of Northern Illinois. The case is of importance to railroads and the public. The point involved was whether a witness could be compelled to testify in a criminal case, when answers might tend to criminate him or subject him to possible further prosecution. It grew out of an inter-state commerce case in which Counselman was asked whether he had ever obtained from any railroad a rate on grain shipments lower than the open rate to all shippers. He refused to answer on the ground that it might criminate him, and claimed protection under the Constitution. Judge Gresham decided that he must answer, and held him in contempt of court for refusing to do so. Counselman appealed from Judge Gresham's order and the Supreme Court decided in his favor, holding that he could not be compelled to answer if it would tend to criminate him.

The Elm Hall sugar plantation of Leon Goodchaux in Assumption Parish, which closed a few days ago, turned out 4,250,000 pounds of sugar on which a bounty of $85,000 will be paid by the United States. This is one of a dozen plantations owned by Goodchaux, who will receive more than a quarter million dollars bounty from the Government.

News of Importance From Home and Abroad.

The Baltimore Investigation.

VALLEJO, Cal., January 11.—Nothing very new was elicited at the Baltimore examination to-day, the evidence being chiefly directed to the corroborating of that already taken and to showing the pernicious activity of the Valparaiso police on the day of the riot. Some score of witnesses were examined. All of them were arrested by the police and confined from four to five days. The great majority of these did not know there had been a riot until they were arrested and taken to the jail, where they found their bruised and bleeding shipmates. Several witnesses testified that the police first made known their desire to arrest them by attacking them from behind, and striking them with gun butts or cutlasses. None of these men made any resistance, although two or three, startled by the sudden assault, tried to run away. In such cases they were chased by mounted officers, knocked down and beaten. One was stabbed by a policeman with a fixed bayonet and did not recover from the wound for 26 days. Search for the men who expressed to the Valparaiso court their approval of the action of the police during the riot, as claimed by the Procurator Fiscal, in his report, is becoming almost as hopeless as the inquiry for the man who struck Billy Patterson, although fifty sailors, including all that were arrested in Valparaiso, have been examined, not one admits that he made any such statement, while at least two-thirds of them tell tales of brutality at the hands of either police or soldiers.

The remainder of the day was taken up with testimony as to the sobriety of Riggin and Turnbull, the two who were murdered. The universal testimony is that they were both sober very shortly before being attacked. No one witnessed the attack on Turnbull or knows the circumstances. He is the one who received eighteen knife wounds in the back and died in a few days from the effects. He made a dying statement which will probably be put in evidence to-morrow.

A Bimetallic Congress.

WASHINGTON, January 11.—In the Senate to-day Teller of Colorado introduced a resolution for a bimetallic congress. The resolution declares it to be the determined policy of the United States Government to use both gold and silver as full legal tender money either under the rate now existing in the United States or under one that may hereafter be established by the United States alone or in accord with other nations. It directs the President to invite the governments of the countries composing the so called Latin Union and such other nations as he may deem advisable to join the United States in a conference and to adopt a common ratio between gold and silver for the purpose of establishing an international use of bimetallic money and of securing a fixity of the relative values between those metals. Whenever the governments, or any three of them, shall have agreed to unite, and whenever, in the judgment of the President, a sufficient number of nations shall have entered into such an international agreement the President is to declare the ratio so fixed to be the existing ratio in the United States. The President is to appoint not less than three nor more than five commissioners, whose reports to him shall be transmitted to Congress and who shall each receive $5,000 a year and reasonable expenses.

Teller spoke at some length in advocacy of his resolution. Stewart submitted a statement in connection with the resolution he offered last week instructing the Judiciary Committee to inquire what further legislation was necessary to secure the coinage of silver as provided by the Bland act. Replying to the query of Mitchell, Stewart said that the act of 1890 certainly did not repeal that portion of the Bland act which applied to the act of 1837. Resolution referred to the Finance Committee. Morgan introduced a bill, which was referred, forfeiting to the United States the lands claimed by the Northern Pacific lying between Bismarck, N. D., and Wallula, Washington.

A Lone Highwayman.

PHŒNIX, January 11.—A special to the Republican says: The Florence and Globe stage was held up by one highwayman five miles west of Riverside, Arizona, Wells, Fargo & Co's. box and two bars of silver bullion being taken. The mail was untouched. The robber is described as tall, dark, with heavy mustache and wore no mask. The same stage was robbed near this point ten days ago and Wells, Fargo & Co's. box taken. It is supposed to be the same man. Indian trailers started out but lost the trail in the Pinal Mountains in a blinding snow storm.

One Thousand Dollars Short.

CARSON, January 11.—The Deputy Sheriff of Ormsby county, Pete Taylor, is over $1,000 short in his accounts. Sheriff Botsford asked for a monthly account, and went to the safe finding a shortage as stated. When Taylor was confronted with the condition of finances he said he knew nothing of it, and if the money was gone some one stole it. The safe showed no signs of having been tampered with. Taylor was not under bonds. Botsford will have to make the loss good to the county. He went to the residence of Taylor with a warrant for his arrest to-night. Taylor is now sick in bed.

The Chilean Question.

WASHINGTON, January 11.—A naval officer of great prominence said this afternoon: "The public should be acquainted with the gravity of the Chilean controversy. The investigations at San Francisco are developing very startling facts, and it will be well for us to appreciate the situation thoroughly. The evidence taken out there shows conclusively to my mind that the assault was a prearranged affair and the inquiry at Valparaiso a mere farce. I am thoroughly convinced that the assault was premeditated and intended as an insult to this Government."

WHAT IS

SCROFULA

It is that impurity in the blood, which, accumulating in the glands of the neck, produces unsightly lumps or swellings; which causes painful running sores on the arms, legs, or feet; which developes ulcers in the eyes, ears, or nose, often causing blindness or deafness; which is the origin of pimples, cancerous growths, or the many other manifestations usually ascribed to "humors;" which, fastening upon the lungs, causes consumption and death. Being the most ancient, it is the most general of all diseases or affections, for very few persons are entirely free from it.

How Can It Be CURED

By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by the remarkable cures it has accomplished, often when other medicines have failed, has proven itself to be a potent and peculiar medicine for this disease. Some of these cures are really wonderful. If you suffer from scrofula, be sure to try Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"My daughter Mary was afflicted with scrofulous sore neck from the time she was 22 months old till she became six years of age. Lumps formed in her neck, and one of them after growing to the size of a pigeon's egg, became a running sore for over three years. We gave her Hood's Sarsaparilla, when the lump and all indications of scrofula entirely disappeared, and now she seems to be a healthy child." J. S. CARLILE, Nauright, N. J.

BREVITIES.

The streets are getting passable once more.

D. A. Bender came down from Carson last night.

Sam Longabaugh came down from Empire on last evening's local.

The will of the late G. W. Huffaker was filed for probate yesterday.

Judge Richard Rising came up from San Francisco yesterday morning.

Miss May Reed of Franktown came down on last evening's local.

Major F. M Huffaker of Virginia City paid the JOURNAL office a visit yesterday.

Attorney Summerfield of Carson passed through from the Bay Sunday morning.

W. D. Tobey and daughter of Carson City passed through for the bay last night.

Sam Davis of the Carson Appeal returned from San Francisco yesterday morning.

Ed. Parkinson of the Carson Tribune passed through on his way to California last evening.

J. R. Bradley, who has been looking after his herds in Elko, returned home Sunday night.

Chancellor Derby, who has been quite sick for some time at Virginia City, was in town yesterday.

The Commissioners of Ormsby county have levied a tax of $1 80 for State and county purposes.

Jas. Miller came in yesterday on the N.-C.-O. bringing four loads of cattle which he shipped below.

Do not forget the benefit ball tendered Prof. Cosgrove by the Fredrick orchestra to-night at Armory hall.

The Sentinel says so far as heard from the cattle and sheep in Eureka county weathered the late storms pretty well.

No. 4 mail train missed connection at Ogden Sunday and the eastern mail came in on No. 2 yesterday, sixteen hours late.

H. H. Springmeyer of Douglas county, one of the Water Commissioners of Nevada, was in town yesterday but went below last night.

The Carson Appeal says Mr. Raycraft had 17 pounds of ore taken from the Monarch mine, Pine Nut district, which yielded $110 in gold.

Sheriff Polk of Elko county left yesterday morning for Carson with a prisoner named Teddy, who had been sentenced to one year and eight months in State Prison for burglary.

The Commissioners of Eureka county have levied the tax rate for the current year at $3 30 on each $100 valuation of taxable property, 75 cents of which is for State purposes.

Peter Taylor, Deputy Sheriff of Ormsby county, has gone wrong to the amount of $1,081. He is no longer deputy, but Sheriff Botsford has made no criminal charge against him.

John W. Cobb, who was brought back from Winnemucca to answer a charge of petty larceny—stealing a watch from Dan O'Keefe—was tried in Justice Linn's court yesterday and acquitted.

The funeral of Ernest Williams, whose remains were found Saturday as heretofore stated in the JOURNAL, took place yesterday from the residence of his grandfather, A. B. Williams and was largely attended.

The Phœnix Creamery in lower Mason Valley has been incorporated. The capital stock is $10,000 divided into shares of $50 each. The incorporators are James Johnson, James Nichol, J. F. Holland and C. F. Meissner, and the principal place of business Greenfield, Mason Valley.

Ex-Governor J. H. Kinkead and wife have returned to their old home at Carson after an absence of a year and a half, much of which time was spent in traveling in Europe. Governor Kinkead was among the most popular of the Chief Executives of Nevada, but like nearly all good men he was not in the "ring."

JOHNSON SIDES' OPINION.

He Says the Fish Law Is No Good—The Indians Are Drying Fish.

Johnson Sides has returned from the Pyramid Reservation, where he has been for a couple of weeks spending the holidays. He says they had there a fine Christmas dinner and a tree in the evening well loaded with presents. He says all the Indians are busily engaged chopping wood. On account of the close season of the fish law they cannot ship the fish they are catching, and so they are drying them for their own use. They do not like the present fish law. Johnson says the Commissioner makes a great mistake when he thinks that the fish spawn during the Winter months. He says they do not begin to spawn until March and are through by June. He thinks the present law should be repealed and says they should have the right to ship during the Fall and Winter months. It is hard for the Indians to get flour now, as they are not allowed to sell fish.

The Spleen.

—not the ill humor you feel like venting upon some offender, but the spleen near the stomach, which supplies the proper amount of blood to the stomach during digestion. But both are affected by a torpid liver. A torpid liver excites the spleen (ill humor) and destroys the bodily organ; but an active liver, promoted by Simmon's Liver Regulator, destroys the spleen (ill humor) and excites to right action the digestive powers—then no more dyspepsia, constipation or biliousness.

SENATOR STEWATR'S RESOLUTION,

It May Result in Opening the Mint for Silver Coinage.

WASHINGTON, D. C., January 5, 1891.

EDITOR NEVADA STATE JOURNAL:—Senator Stewart introduced the following resolution to-day:

WHEREAS, By the fourteenth section of the act approved January 18th, 1837, it is provided "That gold and silver bullion brought to the mint for coinage shall be received and coined, by the proper officers, for the benefit of the depositor;" and

WHEREAS, By the act approved February 28th, 1878, entitled "An Act to authorize the coinage of the standard silver dollar, and to restore its legal tender character," it is enacted "That there shall be coined at the several mints of the United States silver dollars of the weight of four hundred and twelve and a half grains troy of standard silver, as provided in the act of January 18, 1837, on which shall be the devices and superscriptions provided in said act;" therefore be it

Resolved, That the Committee on the Judiciary be, and it is hereby, instructed to inquire if any further legislation is necessary to make it the duty of the proper officers of the mint to receive and coin silver bullion for the benefit of depositors.

Immediately after the introduction of the above resolution your correspondent interviewed Senator Stewart.

Correspondent.—What is the meaning of your resolution with regard to silver coinage, which was referred to the Judiciary Committee to-day?

Senator Stewart.—It is provided in the act of 1837 "That gold and silver bullion brought to the mint for coinage, shall be received and coined, by the proper officers, for the benefit of the depositor." There is no other mode or manner provided for coinage in that act.

The Bland act of 1878, entitled "An Act to authorize the coinage of the standard silver dollar, and to restore its legal tender character," revives the law of 1837 relating to the coinage of silver bullion for the benefit of the depositor. It declares "That there shall be coined, at the several mints of the United States, silver dollars of the weight of four hundred and twelve and a half grains troy of standard silver, as provided in the act of January 18th, 1837, on which shall be the devices and superscriptions provided in said act." The requirement that the officers of the mint shall coin silver bullion for depositors, as provided in the act of 1837, is unequivocal. That act makes it their duty to do so. The act of 1837 also prescribes the devices and superscriptions. Why they have not received and coined silver as prescribed in the act remains a mystery. The omission to enforce this provision of law is unaccountable. It appears to have been overlooked by all parties. I myself have hesitated to call attention to this law, fearing that there might be some other provision repealing, suspending, or qualifying it. But at the suggestion of Mr. E. D. Stark, a lawyer of Ohio, I have examined the question with as much care as my time would permit, and fail to find any repeal or modification of the statute. The fact that the act of 1878 requires the purchase and coinage of silver by the Secretary of the Treasury does not modify the preceding requirement that he shall also coin for depositors.

But before asserting on my individual responsibility that the law makes no discrimination as to coinage between gold and silver, I thought it best to submit the question to the Judiciary Committee. I shall be surprised if they do not find that as a matter of law it is the duty of the officers of the mint to coin silver bullion into standard dollars, at the ratio of 16 to 1, for the benefit of depositors.

IMPOSING CEREMONIES.

Granville Huffaker's Funeral Last Sunday.

The funeral of the late Granville W. Huffaker, one of the first settlers on Truckee Meadows, took place last Sunday. Deceased was a member of Reno Lodge, F. & A. M., of Reno Chapter, R. A. M., and De Witt Clinton Commandery, Knights Templar of Virginia City. The funeral took place from the hall of Reno Lodge, where the beautiful casket containing all that is mortal of the late Brother and Companion lay in State. The ceremonies at the hall were conducted by Reno Lodge, F. & A. M. The ball bearers were Theodore Winters, Stephen Ede, John Douglass, Enoch Morrill, B. F. Bobo and John Wright, all old time acquaintances of deceased. The funeral cortege, headed by the Commandery mounted, followed by Reno Lodge, F. & A. M., the hearse, mourners and citizens, proceeded from the hall down Sierra street to Second, down Second to Virginia, up Virginia to Commercial Row, up Commercial Row to Sierra, up Sierra to Fourth, up Fourth to the cemetery. The riderless charger of the deceased Knight, fully accoutred, was led behind the hearse, emblematic of the fact that a companion had fallen in the battle of life.

At the Masonic Cemetery the Commandery conducted the services, which were imposing and impressive, being of a semi-military and religious nature, and decidedly Christian in character, a cross being placed on the coffin and buried with it, emblematic of the origin of the Knights Templar and their vows as Christian soldiers. The funeral was the largest ever seen in Reno, hundreds of citizens from town and country attending, as well as members of the fraternities of which deceased was a member, to pay the last tribute of respect to an old and highly esteemed citizen.

Card of Thanks.

The undersigned hereby tender their heartfelt thanks to the good friends and neighbors who assisted them and sympathized with them in their late affliction, and take this method of acknowledging their high appreciation of the kind acts performed and favors shown them.

WEDDING BELLS.

Two Souls With But a Single Thought.

On Sunday evening, January 10th, at the residence of Mr. Nate W. Roff, Howard B. McKissick of Secret Valley, Lassen county, Cal., and Miss Lulu L. Black of Long Valley, Cal., were married, Rev. Wm. Lucas of Trinity Episcopal Church officiating. G. R. Chandler acted as groomsman and Miss Clara R. Enyart of Reno bridesmaid. A large number of the relatives and friends of the young couple were present, and after the impressive ceremony was performed and congratulations offered the jolly party were served with an appetizing lunch, at which all drank the health and happiness of the young couple.

Mr. and Mrs. McKissick were the recipients of many handsome and valuable presents, and were showered with the customary rice and old shoes. They have taken up their residence in Reno, and will remain here during the Winter.

FROM HONEY LAKE VALLEY.

Good Reports From the Northern Country.

J. F. McDermitt of Milford, Cal., came in yesterday with a carload of apples from his ranch in Honey Lake Valley. This is the fourth carload he has shipped. Mr. McDermitt says that he finds no trouble in disposing of his crop at good prices below. He reports Honey Lake Valley as being very lively just at present. About one hundred men are engaged on the great reservoir dam of the Honey Lake Valley Land and Water Company which will take a year and a half at least to complete. A school district has been organized by those working on the dam whose families are with them, and thirty-four children are enrolled. Mr. McDermitt thinks the northern country has a very bright future before it.

A FATAL ACCIDENT.

The Brother of a Washoe County Man Killed.

Postmaster Kraus has received a letter from M. J. Malloy, Calico, California, desiring him to inform Patrick Malloy, who is a resident of Washoe county, of the death of his brother Daniel, which occurred at Calico, December 26th, 1891. Daniel, while on his way home, was instantly killed by falling down. He left a trunk and some other property. A telegram was sent Pat Malloy at the time of the accident, but it appears that he did not receive it, as no answer had been sent to Calico. M. J. Malloy, the writer of the letter, says he is not a relative of deceased, whose brother Patrick is engaged in the sheep business in this county.

CO-OPERATIVE YACHTING.

An English Method of Cruising Without Buying an Expensive Boat.

It is becoming more and more popular every year in England for steamers to go out with passengers bound on a regular yachting cruise. In summer they go cruising up among the fiords of Norway and visit the North cape. In winter they go to the Mediterranean or the West Indies. A lot of people on pleasure bent engage passage and have all the pleasure of a cruise on a steam yacht without the trouble and expense of owning one.

Richard J. Goodwin, a retired merchant of this city, who has made a trip on one of these vessels to the North cape, said in conversation with a reporter recently: "I was delighted with my experience, and don't know of a better way to spend an outing. Captain R. D. Lunham was the pioneer in this service. He commanded the British steamer Ceylon, and ran her with great success on various pleasure cruises to Norway, the Baltic and the Mediterranean. He then purchased the steamer Victoria. She is a beautiful vessel of over 1,800 tons and fitted up like the most luxurious of private yachts. Her saloons are paneled in different colored marbles, and she is lighted with electric lights. In fact nothing could exceed the beauty and elegance of the Victoria's fittings. I was so much pleased with her when I went on board to inspect her that I engaged passage at once.

"There were sixty-eight passengers on board when we left the Tilbury docks, below London, for our twenty-five days' cruise to Norwegian fiords and the Cape of the Midnight Sun. Nearly all of the passengers were English, but we had three or four from Brooklyn and New York. We left the Thames on June 27, and at 6 o'clock that night had cleared the Nore and stood out into the North sea. The wind and sea increased and shook us up somewhat, and the next day it blew almost a gale. Most of the passengers put in an appearance at the breakfast table, however. As the day wore on the sea and wind continued to increase, and many of the passengers sought the seclusion which their staterooms granted. By noon of June 29 we ran into smooth water again and were able to make an acquaintance with each other. A pleasant party it proved to be.

"We reached the Norwegian coast that day at the little village of Scudesnaes, a quaint old Norwegian place, where a government officer came on board and remained with us for the rest of the cruise, which was through sheltered passages up the coast. After leaving Scudesnaes we entered the Fiord Hardanger, and by 6 o'clock the next morning anchored in the charming bay of Odde, surrounded with snow capped hills. We remained here thirty-six hours, our steam launch making frequent trips to the shore, so we had a chance thoroughly to inspect the town.

"From Odde we ran up through a long line of fiords, seeing on every hand the grand Norwegian scenery, until we finally arrived at the North cape, and from its storm heights beheld the midnight sun. It was a trip I never can forget, and one of the most satisfactory in every respect which I ever made. It was not an expensive trip either. In fact, I regard such a trip as the perfection of economical enjoyment.

"The expense of such a trip as I have described is about ten dollars a day, which cannot be considered large considering the accommodations offered and the luxury in which one travels."—New York Tribune.

SUMMONS.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE STATE of Nevada, in and for Washoe county.

The State of Nevada sends to John J. Valentine and C. R. Greathouse, as Executors of Hill Beachy, deceased, Grey Beachy Michie and R. E. L. Michie, Greeting: You are hereby required to appear in an action commenced against you as defendant, by George W. Grayson as plaintiff, in the District Court of the State of Nevada, in and for the county of Washoe, and answer the complaint therein within ten days after the service on you of this Summons (exclusive of day of service), if served in said county, or twenty days if served out of said county, but within said District, and in all other cases forty days; or judgment by default will be taken against you according to the prayer of said complaint. The action is brought to obtain a judgment and decree of this Court adjudging that the plaintiff is the owner in fee simple absolute of certain real property mentioned in the complaint and every part thereof, and that said defendants and each of them be adjudged to have no claim or title, or interest or estate in said land, and that the claim of the defendants and each of them be adjudged null and void—said land being described in the complaint herein as follows: To wit: the northwest quarter of the southwest quarter of section 32, and the southwest quarter of the northwest quarter of section 20, all in Township 3C north, Range 49 east, Mount Diablo Meridian, also the northwest quarter of the northeast quarter of section 19, Township 31 north, Range 50 east, Mount Diablo Meridian; also the northeast quarter of the southwest quarter of section 20, Township 32 north, Range 49 east, Mount Diablo Meridian, situate in the county of Eureka, State of Nevada. Plaintiff avers that the said John J. Valentine and C. R. Greathouse are the executors of one Hill Beachy, deceased, and that the said Grey Beachy Michie is the heir-at-law of said Hill Beachy, and the said R. E. L. Michie, is her husband, and that defendants claim an interest in said lands as executors of and heirs-at-law of said Hill Beachy, who purchased said lands as the agent of and in trust for plaintiff.

All of which will more fully appear from the complaint which is on file in the office of the Clerk of said Court, at Reno, in said county, and to which you are especially referred. And you are hereby notified that if you fail to appear and answer said complaint the said plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded.

SEAL. IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of said Court at Reno, this, the 22d day of October, A. D. 1891.

O. H. PERRY,
Clerk of the District Court of the State of Nevada in and for Washoe county.

Mountain Lions Galore.

On the last trip of L. H. Gaskill into the region about San Francisquito bay, on the gulf coast, he saw lions and lynxes and wildcats enough to stock a big menagerie. In one canyon, where his party was encamped, the burros wandered off and Mr. Gaskill started to find them. When about half a mile from the camp he heard them coming tearing down ahead of him as if the Old Nick himself was after them, and they dashed on down toward camp. He knew that some wild beast had frightened them, and although unarmed he went on in the hope of getting a glimpse.

When he had gone a hundred yards further and had climbed on to a large table rock he was astounded to see four full grown mountain lions not more than sixty feet ahead of him, and they seemed to have seen him first and were looking straight at him. Mr. Gaskill remembers distinctly that his hair stood on end, if ever a man's did, but he doesn't remember all the minute details of his return to camp—only that he got there muy pronto. He and his partner took rifles and went after the lions, but they had gone. That night the burros were tied unusually secure, but their occasional snorts and efforts to break away indicated that the wild animals were after meat. A blazing fire kept them at a distance.

Mr. Gaskill states that the Mexicans and Indians living on that part of the peninsula are in mortal dread of meeting a lion, as the beasts are in a constantly famished condition, and have been known to follow men for hours, awaiting a favorable opportunity to pounce upon them.—Lower Californian.

Innocents Abroad.

Two small children—one a boy and the other a girl—were permitted to accompany their mother on a shopping tour in the week before Christmas. They espied a life size figure of Santa Claus in one of the large retail marts in Sixth avenue. Breaking away from parental guidance, they ran joyfully up to the figure, exclaiming, "Oh, Mr. Santa Claus!" "Mr. Santa Claus!" with such vehemence that the attention of at least a dozen persons was attracted to them. With all of the sincerity and enthusiasm that true faith imparts those little ones stood before the grizzled and toy laden image and told what they wanted "Dear Mr. Santa Claus" to bring them for Christmas. The little boy wanted a wagon with horses that could trot, and the girl wanted a dolly that could open and shut its eyes and talk. So firm was their belief in the actual presence of Santa Claus that the little folks imagined that they could see a twinkle in his eye and a smile of assent to their petitions on his lips. It was an incident that touched the adult observers, one of whom, a white haired old gentleman, murmured, "'Tis a pity that a child's belief in Santa Claus should ever be shaken."—New York Times.

Old Memories Recalled.

After the adjournment of the United States court at Danville, Va., recently, there was a little scene which was not on the docket. A one armed old Confederate had been found guilty of illegal distilling and was sentenced to one month's imprisonment and a fine of $100. Judge John Paul, who was also an old Confederate, ordered the marshal to bring Garrett Morrison, the one armed veteran, into the courtroom. Presently the judge and prisoner stood face to face. As he touched the empty sleeve tears came into the eyes of the judge, who said: "Come back here tomorrow and I will consider your case. We old boys are getting scarce, and you cannot go to jail.—Cor. Richmond Times.

When Does the Nineteenth Century End?

I have been pretty thoroughly convinced for years that not one person in five knows when this century will close, but I was much surprised to find the statement that but about eight years of this century remain. This would make 1892 the last year of this decade and century. The matter is important enough to correct, and is very easily made clear. The First century closed with the last day of the year 100; the Second with the last day of the year 200, and the Nineteenth century will end with the last day of the year 1900, which is nine years from New Year Day, 1892.—J. Ogden Kern in New York Sun.

A Steam Sleigh.

A Truckee (Cal.) man has in the course of construction a steam sleigh which will, he claims, when perfected, traverse snow covered fields and mountains with a speed scarcely less than that of a railroad train. It is his intention to utilize the contrivance for the hauling of all classes of freight, sawlogs and anything else that requires cheap transportation.—Exchange.

While a workman was repairing an outbuilding in Winchester, Ind., a few days ago, he found under one of the sills an old tin can containing about $1,600 in gold coin, mostly in $2.50 and five dollar pieces. No one knows to whom the treasure belonged.

The Oakland board of education having decreed that married teachers must go, the question the women are asking each other is, since no distinction was made, what will be the effect of the resolution where the teachers happen to be men?

The great treasury vault at Washington covers more than a quarter of an acre and is twelve feet deep. Recently there was $99,000,000 in silver stored there, an amount that weighed 4,000 tons and would load 175 freight cars.

The fishing industry at Portland, Or., and vicinity is rapidly increasing. The amount of mackerel packed in Portland alone last season was 17,000 barrels, or more than 10,000 barrels in excess of the season before.

One of the latest discoveries of the scientists is that the germs of yellow fever may be conveyed from tropical countries in the plumage of birds.

A young man lost an eye the other night in Chicago by a jab from a needle-like weapon that projected from the hat of a young woman who was accidentally thrown against him.

Joseph Ranson, who died recently in Cincinnati leaving an estate amounting to $6,000,000, was the largest holder of United States bonds in that city.

Making Fun of the Czar.

The following satirical production, purporting to show how the Russian court travels, appears in the German papers in the form of a letter from a Russian court functionary to his friend in Berlin: "Dear Friend—The following may serve you as an exact information. It is quite uncertain when we leave Copenhagen. In any case this afternoon at 7 o'clock—it may be also early the day after tomorrow; but quite certain tomorrow at noon. We shall, of course, choose the sea journey, for the land journey suits us much better. For this reason it is not yet decided which we shall prefer. I think we shall go by sea as well as by land. When we leave the steamer we get into the train—that is to say, on another steamer—I mean a steamship on rails, or rather an express train in the water. We are mainly afraid of seasickness, therefore we remain as long as possible on the ocean. For after all one travels best on terra firma; therefore the sea journey is as good as settled. We travel via Berlin, where you may await me at the station; but you can save yourself the trouble, as we shall not touch Berlin under any consideration. We shall travel via Stettin. When I say Stettin I mean Danzig. What's the good of us going to Danzig? Naturally we shall go direct from Copenhagen per ship to Konigsberg. Therefore au revoir the day after tomorrow in Berlin. We leave here in a week; where we shall go is quite still undecided."

A Much Delayed Wedding.

Miss Florence E. Howell, of Decatur, and George Vandyke, of Louisville, married at midnight, had an eventful experience. Twice had the wedding day been fixed, but it was postponed. The third time they came near missing it again. George expected his wedding suit from Louisville by express. It did not come, although the couple waited until the last train was in before starting on their journey in the mud, five miles distant to the home of the bride, where the wedding guests had assembled to witness the marriage. At 7 o'clock Vandyke procured his license, and as he was coming out of the office he fell headlong twelve feet into the cellar of the new court house. Later he started with the bride and four friends for the Howell place, when the single tree broke, the horses kicked themselves loose and ran away, leaving the party in the mud. Another vehicle was secured and the journey resumed. The party arrived at 11 o'clock to find some of the guests getting ready to go home. The wedding feast was cold, but the wedding took place at midnight.—Decatur Cor. Chicago Tribune.

A Steel Chimney.

In order to economize space and weight, steel is being used for the construction, at the Chicago exhibition, of a chimney which, when completed, will be 250 feet high. The steel varies in thickness from 5-32 inch at top to ⅜ inch at the bottom. The lower part of the chimney is lined with fire brick 8 inches deep, formed to fit the shell compactly all round. Above this hollow tile is used.

The weight of a brick chimney of this size would be almost 700 tons, while in steel it will weigh, including the linings, a little less than 250 tons. The outside diameter of the chimney is 9 feet 5 inches, whereas had it been constructed of brick it would be 16 feet 6 inches, a great saving of space being thus effected.—Exchange.

Why He Gave Away Overshoes.

"We have a shoemaker in our town," says a Quebec man, "whose business in selling overshoes has been ruined by a hustling rubber house, and who, this winter, to get even, had a great opening sale, at which he gave to every purchaser of shoes a pair of rubber overshoes, upon the soles of which was his advertisement reversed so that at every step the wearers take through the snow they leave his advertisement neatly printed in their tracks. The effect is magical and powerful. You can scarcely look at the snow any place in Quebec without seeing footprints with this man's name glaring boldly from them.—New York Tribune.

A Three Legged Steer.

A monster three legged steer was recently discovered on the headwaters of the Cheyenne river, in Wyoming. It is 7 years old, and weighs close on 2,000 pounds, and has horns that will measure six feet from tip to tip. The hind legs are perfect, but in front there is only one leg, located in the centre of the body on the part of the body between where the front limbs are on an ordinary steer and is about the size of two ordinary legs. The steer is wild, and when discovered took the lead of a small herd of mavericks and skipped out for a hiding place.—Omaha Bee.

Singular Capture of a Swan.

John Jordan brought a large white swan to Pendleton the other day, and tells a queer story as to how he got it. While near his house, on East Birch creek, he saw some eagles chasing the swan in the air above him. The unfortunate bird, in its anxiety to escape, flew directly over the young man's head, and with a quick spring he managed to seize and bring it down, the disappointed eagles flying angrily away.—Portland Oregonian.

Looking for Birds and Found a Deer.

Two Oldtown hunters down in Maine had an odd experience. They were after partridge. Very suddenly, however, as they were walking in the woods, a startled deer sprang from the bushes and made a tremendous bound, going over one hunter's head. He had no time to take another leap before he fell a victim.—Springfield Republican.

Caught a Fish Also.

Mr. Samuel Hickman, of Leesburg, Va., while hunting on the banks of the Potomac shot a squirrel, which fell into the water, where it was seized by a black bass. Hickman waded in and lifted both squirrel and fish clear out of the water before the bass let go and made its escape.—New York Post.

About 12,235,000,000 matches are made in England every year, equal to about 11,000 tons of wood. The estimated production of matches per year throughout the globe is given at 150,000,000,000.

The Leaning Tower at Saragossa.

A committee appointed to report on the famous Torre Nuova in the Plaza San Filipe, in the capital of Aragon, has issued a pessimistic account. It is feared that this clock tower, a very fine example of the kind, will have to be pulled down. Excessive rains and floods have caused a subsidence of the soil and the structure is deemed unsafe. The construction of this torre inclinada was begun in the Fifteenth century, under the direction of two Spanish, two Moorish and one Jewish architect; it is octagonal in form, 300 feet high, 45 in diameter, and leans about 10 feet out of the perpendicular. Stone steps, 260 in number, lead inside to the top gallery. It has been stated that the leaning of the tower was due to the caprice of the architects, but an old crack in its side and a careful examination of the foundation led to the conclusion that it was want of care on the part of the builders. The Aaragonese speak of the ancient crack as an old wound in its side, of which the Torre Nuova is now dying. This old wound" was under treatment in the year 1860, but an unfortunate relapse threatens to result in an entire collapse.—Tablet.

Getting Rich Fast.

Two young men near Los Angeles, Cal., are rapidly making a fortune slaying coyotes. Last April they were not worth fifty dollars, but now they have $4,700 to their credit in bank and they are adding about $150 a week to their deposit. They have fifty traps set, and with these and their rifles are rapidly thinning out the coyotes in Los Angeles and San Bernardino counties. At five dollars a scalp there is more money in hunting coyotes than in growing grain or fruit, but the business will probably come to an end when the next legislature meets. The law which was passed as a joke has proved to be very costly pastime.—San Francisco Chronicle.

A Russian Doctor.

A Russian journal reports an interesting case of a philanthropic physician. Visiting the patients of his districts, the doctor found that in many instances their sickness was caused by hunger. To the most needy he prescribed "six pounds of pure rye flour in doses of two pounds a day." He ordered his patient to get the medicine at the drug store of the nearest village, where it would be issued free of charge every day. The good doctor made arrangements with the druggist to supply the flour at his expense. In this way his patients will be kept from starvation the whole winter.

A Change in Electric Lights at Sea.

A remarkable change is said to be about to take place in the manner of giving the warning light to mariners. In England electric lights experimentally turned vertically toward the sky have given extraordinary results. The light of the Eddystone lighthouse can be seen 17⅛ miles on a clear night, but a vertical beam of light of far less power is visible twice as far and can surmount an ordinary fog.—Philadelphia Ledger.

The Queen's Reporter.

The post of "queen's reporter" in parliament is vacant by the elevation of Lord Lewisham to the upper house. It is said that Mr. Balfour will undertake the duties with his new office. Both Lord Palmerston and Mr. Gladstone, when they led the house, were queen's reporters.—London Tit-Bits.

East of the Mississippi.

It is repeated very often that for the first time a Republican convention is to be held "west of the Mississippi river." It is not thus in this case. The Minneapolis exposition building, where the convention will meet, is not on the west side, but is on the east side of the river.—Lancaster Examiner.

In St. Louis recently a large building in one of the best business streets of the city was torn down simply because it was thought to be "hoodooed," which shows that superstition still has a strong hold on some people.
